

Speed Dating with Safal Partners

Let's find out how we can help you accomplish your goals.

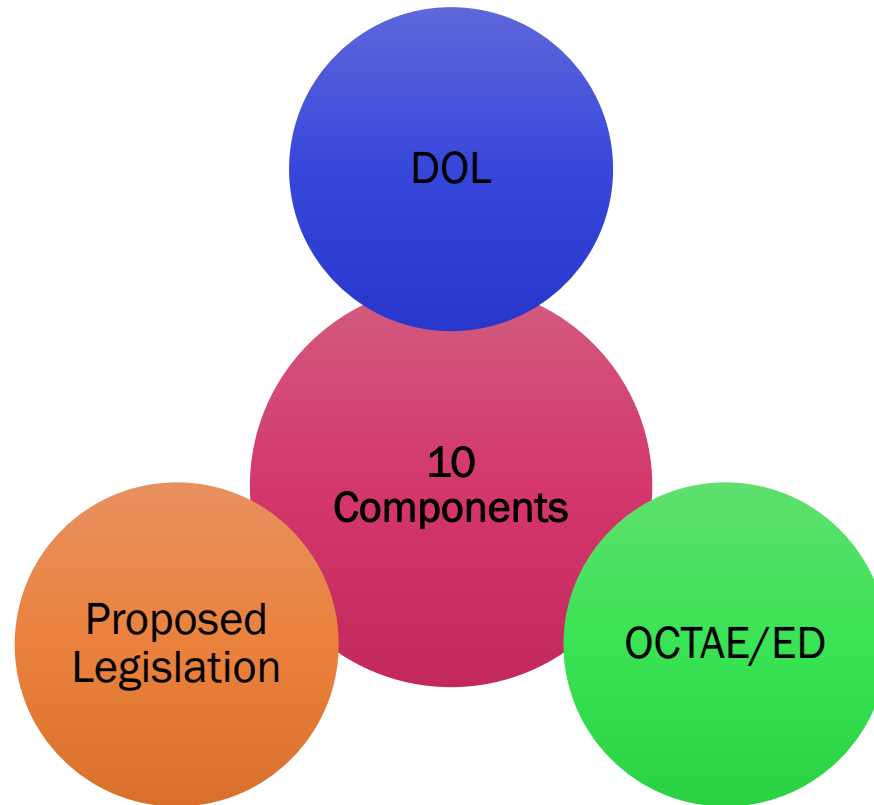

Takeaways from today:

- WHAT is required for building career pathways systems according to: U.S. Department of Labor, Education, and current/prospective legislation
- WHAT are the elements of this critical framework
- HOW to self-assess to determine what's next
- HOW to cross the finish line by identifying 1st steps for building/enhancing your programs

We will use these 10 components to clarify/refine system requirements.

1. Policies, Practices, and Legislation	6. Course Sequences
2. Partnerships	7. Credit Transfer Agreements
3. Professional Development	8. Guidance Counseling and Academic Advisement
4. Accountability and Evaluation Systems	9. Teaching and Learning Strategies
5. College and Career Readiness Standards	10. Technical Skill Assessments

Where do the 10 components of our framework come from?

Let's take a quick survey to assess

- With the worksheet, consider the current status of your implementation efforts as defined by each framework component.
- This analysis offers a comprehensive review of overall readiness and capacity. This process guides identification of strategies to strengthen implementation of each component and aligning subcomponents.
- Components that are determined to have a weak status or to be of critical importance can be targeted for a deeper analysis of the subcomponents.

What did we find out?

- Which functional components are the most important?
- Which functional components need the most work?
- Do different programs have different assessments? Why?

How to contact us...

- Michelle Carson
 - michelle.carson@safalpartners.com
 - 785-250-1882
- Vinayak Reddy
 - vinayak.reddy@safalpartners.com

Ask us about our Advisory Board Toolkit!!!!

Also, check out TXCTE.ORG – new TEA CTE Resource Library that goes live August 8th.